Wow! Almost 40 meets are reported in this issue but, unfortunately, a couple where our stalwart photographer, Roger Taylor, went, didn't send their results. Consequently, some of the photos in this issue are going to be a bit skimpy on ID's.

This isn't the biggest issue we've ever done and it surely won't be the biggest this year, but there are still almost 8,000 names in this issue and every one has a time or distance typed with it. That's a lot of typing, and a lot of chances for mistakes. We appreciate having our mistakes brought to our attention. That is a lot of data to sift through to compile the season leaders lists as well and, combined with the fact that several meets were late in reporting, leaves a lot of chances for mistakes in the leaders lists. We had all the meets loaded on our web site by 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday and the leaders lists and team rankings were up by Thursday night. Take advantage of our web site if you're in a hurry for results.

Speaking of the web site. We are going to continue to post results and rankings on the site with free access through this season. Next year, we will divide the site into two sections with results and rankings available only to current subscribers. In order to gain access to the subscriber section a visitor will only have to contact us for a password which will be good for the duration of their subscription.

I've had several conversations with coaches, superintendents and librarians over the past couple of weeks and a constant theme has been that Oklahoma Track & Field News belongs in every high school library in the state. With the almost total lack of coverage by the biggest newspapers in the state, OT&FN may be the only place that some kids will ever see their name in print. This also coincides with our desperate need to increase the circulation of OT&FN. So, coaches, parents, fans, and athletes, make a point of contacting your high school librarian and asking them to add OT&FN to their library's collection—subscription information can be found in the section on the right of this page.

A few more notes on the leaders lists. In order for a performance to be considered, we must have the full results of the meet reported by noon on Monday following the meet. There will be meets reported in this issue that were not in our office in time to be considered for the rankings. Team rankings are simply compiled from the individual lists by pointing out the list as if it were the finish in the state meet. We will always print all placewinners. If we don't, it means that the meet director did not submit them.

Regional assignments will be made next week and we will post them to the web site as soon as they are done. They will also appear in the next issue which will be dated April 30.

See you at a track meet!
